Connie Mack Thinks.
Mr. Mellon Stays.
MacDonald's Sincerity.
Mail Order War.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

YOU read about the ball game sand. Tv. would have gone had there been room for them. A long line headed by a small boy who had taken his place thirty hours before the game started, waited through the night.

MORE important than the game is the fact that even a game of hitting, running, catching and throwing, depends as everything does, on brains.

A WORLD'S SERIES is not won by young men with muscular legs, that swing bats and slide to bases. It is won by some Connie Mack who does the thinking. Too old to play, Connie Mack is not too old to think. His team won — young gentlemen take notice.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S announcement that Secretary Mellon has promised to remain in office until 1933, is good news. The public appreciates the willingness of Mr. Mellon, one of the two or three richest men in the world, to neglect his own business for the public business. It requires not much intelligence to realize to what extent Mr. Mellon's work has contributed to national prosperity.

HIMSELF a heavy taxpayer, direct or through corporation ownership, Mr. Mellon has paid off, already, many billions of the national debt. He continues the "pay as you go" policy, not shouldering war debts on future generations that may be less able to pay than today's prosperous generation.

IN HIS speech before congress, Ramsay MacDonald impressed the country with his sincerity, when he said "There can be no war." "Nay, more, it is a pity, impossible, if you, and we, do our duty in making the peace pact of 1919. No section of our arms, whether of land or sea or air, can ever again come into hostile conflict."

WHAT MacDonald says about impossibility of war between the United States and Britain would apply, as regards war on a great scale, anywhere on earth, if the United States and the British empire were united in determination to discourage and prevent war.

TO DO that they must be not only the richest and biggest, but the most powerfully protected nations on earth. Back of their words and civilization there must be everything to intimidate the warlike and lawless, including, especially, airplanes, submarines, fast cruisers AND POISON GAS.

COMPETITION for business among mail order houses produces interesting results, including bargains. But even competition and the effort to please the public can be pushed too far.

Recently Sears, Roebuck, biggest mail order house, and its chief competitor, Montgomery Ward, said they would prepay not only postage but freight, on all merchandise sold.

THE freight on a keg of nails, in many instances would be more than the cost of the nails, which would unduly favor buyers living at a distance. The mail order houses would eventually make the list price of nails include the cost of the freight.

IN ADDITION, with great mail order houses paying freight, absorbing it themselves, the public, including farmers, the most important customers of mail order houses, would become indifferent to freight rates, high or low.

They would not even know what freight rates were.

But it would not be good for the

225 Good Will Envoys Tour County

SALEM KIWANIS IS LUNCHEON HOST AT NOON

Business Men Visit Nine Places During Morning.

CROWDS ON HAND

City Band and Vagabonds Present Programs.

By H. J. Kaufman

ENROUTE WITH EAST LIVERPOOL GOOD WILL TOURISTS, SALEM, Oct. 10. — Automobile caravan nearly a mile in length, carrying 225 representative business and professional men and manufacturers of the East Liverpool district, arrived here shortly before noon today on their county-wide "good will" tour, sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Large crowds greeted the envoys in the nine villages and towns through which they passed or made stops this morning. The biggest reception was tendered the party at East Palestine, where the populace turned out en masse. Stops were also made at Rogers, Negley, New Waterford and Columbiana. The caravan passed through Calcutta, Fredericktown and Clarkson without stops.

Salem Kiwanis was hosts to the East Liverpool party at luncheon in the Memorial building at noon. Selections by the East Liverpool City band and Edith Calhoun and the Four Vagabonds, a male quartet, provided entertainment. A parade through the business section of Salem was held prior to the luncheon.

Each of the five stopping places, a band played several selections. Two numbers were given by the quartet at each stop. Dinner at Salineville.

First stop of the tourists this afternoon will be at Washingtonville. The caravan will next visit Leontonia and then go to Lisbon. From Lisbon, Hanoverton, Kensington, Millport and Summitville will be visited, with stops in each place except Millport. From Summitville, the visitors will go to Salineville where the Kiwanis club will entertain at dinner. Following the Salineville stop, the party will visit Wellsville where 15 minutes will be spent, and then continue to East Liverpool where the 117-mile trip requiring approximately 14 hours, will end.

RUHE CITES FIRE HAZARDS

"Indifference on the part of the public in accumulating rubbish and inflammable goods and carelessness by smokers causes practically all fires in this community," Captain William Ruhe, of the Northside fire station, told the Lions club last night at a dinner in the Travelers' hotel. He spoke on "Fire Prevention."

COLUMBUS DAY SMOKER FRIDAY

Rev. Father Joseph Parker, assistant pastor of the St. Peter's Catholic church, Steubenville, will be the guest of honor at a Columbus day smoker to be held at the Carroll Circle No. 28, Columbus Squares, the only unit of Junior Knights of Columbus in Ohio, in the Ingram building, Diamond.

Francis T. Geon, retiring chief of the Columbus chapter, will be toastmaster. Other guests will be the Rev. Fathers Thomas E. Walsh, J. L. Maurer and William E. Maxwell. The Knights of Columbus entertained 100 guests at a Columbus day dance and card party last night. Sayre's Premier Syncopeators were in charge of the music.

DEFEND FALL IN NEW TRIAL

Frank J. Hogan (left) and William E. Deaby, attorneys for former secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall, shown as they entered the supreme court in Washington, where the trial was halted yesterday by the illness of Fall, who is charged with bribery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. — Declaration of a mistrial in the bribery case against Albert B. Fall was held temporarily in abeyance today pending a further, and more searching inquiry into the exact physical condition of the former secretary of interior.

U. S. Court Denies Appeal of Buckley

Former State Treasurer Must Serve Sentence of Two Years And Six Months.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 10. — (INS) — The appeal of ex-State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley, by which he had hoped to escape serving the two years and six months' federal penitentiary sentence which was imposed upon him following his conviction on liquor conspiracy and attempted bribery charges, was denied by the federal circuit court of appeals in a ruling which was handed down today.

The gray-haired former state official will not be forced to begin serving his prison term immediately, however.

An order, which stayed the mandate from becoming effective for 30 days, was granted by the appellate court. This was allowed in order to give Buckley's attorneys sufficient time to prepare an appeal to the United States supreme court, which is all that remains between Buckley and the Atlanta federal penitentiary now.

Buckley is also under sentence to pay a fine of $1,000. The man, formerly a highly-respected state official, was convicted in federal court in Columbus early this year. The liquor conspiracy and attempted bribery charges were an outgrowth of his alleged connection with a Cincinnati "beer-brewery-bribery" case. It was then charged that Buckley tried to bribe John P. Eckhart, deputy federal prohibition commissioner, for "protection" for the Jackson Brewery company's manufacture of real beer.

NEWCOMBE TOT HIT BY TRUCK

Margaret Jane, 6, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Newcombe, of Buffalo, N. Y., the former one-day pastor of the United Presbyterian church, in Chester, is recovering today at her home from a broken hip, fractured arm and lacerations to her cheek and right leg, sustained Monday afternoon when struck by a truck. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Finley, Minerva street, grandparents, were advised. The child was run down as she crossed the street near the York State college while returning from school.

MACK IS HAPPY AS ATHLETICS SPEED HOME

Connie, 67, Upsets Osler Chloroform Suggestion.

CUBS ARE MUM Sport Writer Sees World Title for "Old Man."

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.
(I. N. S. Sports Editor.)

ENROUTE TO PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10. — Dr. Osler wanted them chloroformed as an act of mercy after they passed the sixtieth milestone and, just to establish a point of order, the world and its four corners would like to know what the good doctor might have wished to do with a man like Connie Mack. The 67-year-old Mr. Mack was such a gibbering doting that, as he rode home to Philadelphia today at the head of his victorious Athletics, the best he could look forward to was the championship of the world by the end of the present week.

EARLIER SERIES START PLANNED

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 10. — (INS) — Judge Kengaw Mountain Landis, baseball's "czar," told International News Service today that the 1930 baseball season will be started two weeks earlier than heretofore or that the world's series of next year will be started at an earlier date.

Judge Landis, speaking from the vestibule of the Cubs' special here this morning, said the changes would have to be made because of the cold weather encountered in an October post-season series.

This, the greatest honor within the gift of professional baseball, was deemed to be his, practically without further contest. His ball club had just finished the first two games of the world series with the Chicago Cubs and, judging by what happened at Wrigley Field, the only reason the Athletics hadn't won three games by today was that they don't allow double headers in this series.

FORMER LIQUOR SLEUTH JAILED

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 10. — Harley Bee, former Jefferson county dry agent, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 20 days in the workhouse by Judge Jay S. Paisley, today, following his conviction on an extortion indictment.

Bee's arrest was an aftermath of a liquor raid at the home of Mrs. Joseph Pecanoid at Steubenville.

Premier MacDonald Visits Philadelphia To Attend Luncheon With Doctor, Nurse

Gesture of Gratitude For Attention Two Years Ago.

By David P. Sentner.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10. — (INS) — Practicing what he preaches, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, of Great Britain stopped off here this afternoon in a gesture of brotherhood and gratitude to attend luncheon with the physician and nurse who attended him in his illness two years ago.

PLAN ROLL CALL Mrs. F. H. Hoover Will Form Class in Hygiene.

Because of the demand other duties make upon his time, the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church today resigned as chairman of the East Liverpool chapter of the American Red Cross. He had served for three years. His successor has not been named.

Annual Red Cross roll call in East Liverpool will open on Armistice day and close on Thanksgiving day. The chairman will be selected within the next two weeks.

Mrs. Frank H. Hoover, wife of the city solicitor, and a graduate nurse, has been named organizer of a class in hygiene which will be conducted for women and girls during the winter.

ALBERT H. KINNE DIES; AGED 68

Albert H. Kinne, 68, formerly of 312 Division street, died last night in the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. S. Wood, First street, Wellsville, after an illness of complications.

Mr. Kinne was a member of the Loyal Order of Moose of Monongahela, Pa.

He leaves four sons, Albert, Raymond and Joseph, East Liverpool, and Carl, Steubenville, and three daughters, Miss Adele Kinne, East Liverpool; Mrs. R. J. Dickerson, Chicago; and Mrs. Wood, his wife, Mrs. Mary M. Kinne, died six weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in the immaculate Conception Catholic church, Wellsville. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Father E. J. Gracey. Burial will be made in St. Aloysius cemetery.

Dry Chieftain Hits Leniency With Real Bootlegger In Ohio

"People Want Prohibition Law Enforced, But Fines of $100 or $200 on Dealers and $200 or $400 on Rum Runners do Not Scare Anybody," He Declares.

LIQUOR FOE IS GUEST OF HONOR AT COUNTY W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Delegates Select East Palestine as 1930 Meeting Place and Adopt Resolutions Endorsing Senator Capper's Bill for Department of Education; Laud President.

"Less leniency with repeaters, stiffer fines for the real bootlegger and the maximum penalty for the rum runner," were advocated by State Prohibition Commissioner Rupert R. Beetham, of Cadiz, last night, in an address at the closing session of the thirty-ninth annual convention of the Columbiana County Women's Christian Temperance Union in the First Church of Christ.

Beetham, who was given the chautauqua salute when he was introduced by Mrs. K. L. Rothwell, of East Palestine, president, of the county organization, urged workhouse sentences for peddlers, attacked commercialization of liquor fines and demanded that officials file second and third offense charges to "put the bootlegger out of business."

"Too much leniency is being shown to repeaters," he declared. "The people of Ohio want the prohibition law enforced. Proper fines will enforce the law but fines of $100 or $200 on dealers and $300 or $400 on rum runners do not scare anybody."

Jail Bootleggers, He Urges.

"A few courts have fixed the fines, not at what should be punishment to the violator, but at what amount they are sure they can collect. The county does not want to board the prisoners. Commissioners have not learned that a bootlegger in jail is much cheaper than a bootlegger at large, even though he has paid a hundred dollars."

East Palestine was selected as the 1930 convention city of the county union, while Mrs. Anna Reed, of Columbiana, was named recording secretary. Other officers were elected yesterday morning.

Cigarette Smoking Deplored. In the afternoon session, Commissioner Beetham was commended in the resolutions adopted. So was President Herbert Hoover for his declaration that Washington, D. C., should be made a model dry city in the enforcement program and his hearty endorsement of the wish for the Eighteenth Amendment to succeed.

Gov. Myers Y. Cooper was also congratulated on his course as Ohio's executive with reference to his law enforcement viewpoints. Sheriff William Barlow of Columbiana county was complimented on the force of his administration, and the bill of U. S. Senator Capper, of Kansas, for the creation of a federal department of education, was endorsed.

The resolutions, offered by Mrs. C. F. Bough, of West Point, wife of a former mayor of East Liverpool, "deplored the excessive use of cigarettes and the efforts made to encourage boys and girls to become addicts thereof." "We feel that no teacher in our schools should use cigarettes," the resolutions declared, which went on to urge a single standard of morality by both men and women.

Before the resolutions were adopted, Mrs. Viola D. Romans, Columbus, state vice president, noted that the last legislature of Ohio appropriated $10,000,000 for the Ohio State university and that this year women students as well as men are permitted to smoke on the campus.

"I think it is high time that taxpayers know where their money is being expended," she protested. "I suggest that the time has come that an institution added in this degree by the state should have stronger viewpoints with reference to such departures." Her address was vigorously cheered.

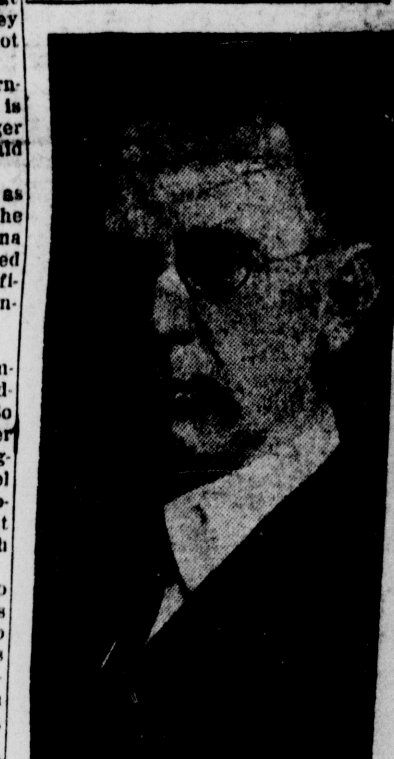

Departments Submit Reports. Reports of various departments were submitted during the afternoon.

It was disclosed that a delegation will attend the state convention of the First Church of Christ and the East Liverpool Review were voted thanks for entertainment, use of the church and publicity, respectively.

Defends Use of Detectives. Beetham said in part: "The right to rule in a democracy comes with the duty to obey. The right can not exist without the duty. We have not yet reached the place in America where every body is willing to obey, therefore the majority that is willing must exercise, through the democracy."

Before adjourning, the delegates, congregation of the First Church of Christ and the East Liverpool Review were voted thanks for entertainment, use of the church and publicity, respectively.

W. C. T. U. GUEST

State Prohibition Commissioner Rupert R. Beetham, Cadiz, was the principal speaker at the closing session of the annual convention of the Columbiana County Women's Christian Temperance Union in the First Church of Christ last night.

COOK SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY

Review Plans Model Kitchen in Eagles' Auditorium.

Model kitchen, equipped with the latest-type ranges, cabinets and utensils will be installed on the platform of the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway, for the four-day cooking school, which opens under the auspices of The Review next Tuesday afternoon.

Diversified lectures will be given by Mrs. Frances Northcross, home economic expert, who will conduct the classes. These lectures will deal not only with the art of preparing tasty and well-balanced meals but will also include budgeting and other duties which the housewife usually handles. The classes will meet from 2 to 4 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Doors of the hall will open at 1 o'clock each afternoon. Admission will be free.

BLIMP TO HOP HERE ON FRIDAY

Weather permitting the Good-year blimp, "Puritan," will hop from Akron to East Liverpool tomorrow, arriving here at 10 a. m. It was announced at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The dirigible, which will sail over East Liverpool for two or three hours, will land at the Chamber of Commerce airport.

BIBLE SCHOOL NAMES CHIEF

Rev. A. J. Hall, Weirton, County President.

NEWELL, W. Va., Oct. 10.—The Rev. J. Albert Hall, of Weirton, was elected president of the Hancock County Bible School association at the convention in the First Presbyterian church, it was announced today.

Broken Rest Is Nature's Danger Signal

Thousands of men and women are running grave risks of broken health and lowered vitality by allowing frequent night calls (which generally indicate a weakness or irritation of the bladder) to rob them of sleep and rest. Dr. Dickson, a graduate physician, with over forty years' practice, has had prepared after his formula a treatment, called Dr. Dickson's Compound, for bladder and kidney disorders. This treatment has proven so effective that all sufferers from bladder weakness, sluggish kidneys, pains in back or legs, burning, scalding elimination, are urged to give it a thorough test. Try it at our risk, only 65c. Money back if not satisfied.

Other officers are: Associate president, the Rev. R. C. Ostergren, Weirton; vice presidents, Ross Bushong, Newell, and Jesse McGowan, Hollidays Cove; secretary-treasurer, J. D. Runkle, Weirton; associate treasurer, R. B. Murray, New Cumberland; supervisor of children's work, Miss Mildred Newhouse, Weirton; associate supervisor of children's work, Mrs. Charles Davis, Hollidays Cove; supervisor of young people's work, Mrs. R. B. Murray, New Cumberland; supervisor of adult work, Mrs. C. M. Sinkula, Weirton; supervisor of administrative work, W. T. Parsons, Chester; supervisor of leadership, G. C. Adams, Weirton; executive committee, Fanny Lynch, Chester; Mrs. T. S. Zickler, Newell, and Sally Prosser, New Cumberland.

Place of the next convention will be selected by the executive committee.

CROWD HEARS REVIVAL LEADER

Evangelist Minnie E. Ludwig of St. Louis, Mo., preached to an other large crowd last night in the Church of the Nazarene, Washington street. Her text was "Behold, I Am the Lord the God of All Flesh. Is There Anything Too Hard for Me?"

She said in part: "Yes there are some things God cannot or will not do. He cannot smile upon sin. He is angry with the wicked every day. He will not excuse sin. 'God cannot compel people to serve Him. Man is a free moral agent, and while God will do all in His power to induce man to forsake sin, yet He will not infringe upon or break into the circle of man's will.'"

"There is no case of sin disease that it is too hard for God to heal. There are no chains of bondage that God cannot break."

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Modern woman, freed of the restraint of long tresses, realizes the comfort and sanitation of the bobbed head. The shears in the hands of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE have severed the bonds of another archaic dogma.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

Baseball Holds Its Audience

With all due respect to other sports, including football which is recognized as a runner-up, baseball, so long as it keeps its head above suspicion and its backers used good judgment when they selected Judge Keweenaw Mountain Landis as the czar of the game—will be the national pastime.

Persons who dispute the point should read the newspaper accounts of the second clash in the 1929 world series which was witnessed by 50,000 fans who defied the danger of pneumonia to cheer the Philadelphia Athletics in another victory over the seemingly outclassed Chicago Cubs. And this crowd, which taxed all seating accommodations in Wrigley Field, was a repetition of the story of attendance on the first day. It is a safe wager that if the capacity of the Chicago park were 100,000 every seat would have been occupied.

It will be the same story in Shibe park, Philadelphia, on Friday, when the champions of the American and National leagues resume their battle for the highest honor in the game—the world's championship. But Shibe park will accommodate less fans than Wrigley Field, not counting the throngs that will pay almost any price for wildcat seats on house-tops near the playing field.

And the 50,000 who witnessed each of the Chicago battles, and nearly as many more, who will be on the job in the City of Brotherly Love, represent only a small percentage of the fans, for millions are watching newspaper scoreboards and "listening in" on radio reports of the title clashes. Why? Because baseball has everything that appeals to the sport lover.

Yes, baseball is the national pastime, for it not only commands the attention of men and women, but most boys are playing the game before they become interested in the alphabet and they continue to play it, or watch others play it, until they pass on.

Army Post Survey

Chairman James of the military affairs committee of the house sets an excellent example to his fellow legislators when he goes out in search of information. It was necessary during the summer to gather data concerning the way in which the standing army is housed and fed. Instead of relying on reports, which no doubt were available in the files of the war department, the congressman stepped in to an airplane and traveled 21,000 miles, visiting practically every military post in the entire country.

When the committee chairman gets back to Washington this month he will be able to speak with authority when matters pertaining to the appropriation of vast sums of money for the maintenance of army posts are brought up for consideration, and the legislation he enacted no doubt will reflect the accuracy of his observations. The man who knows what he is talking about always is sure of an interested audience.

Another thought occurs in this connection. There are many military posts, small and large, scattered within the length and breadth of the nation. Some of them were established as forts in the days of the Indian wars. Needless to say, their uses for that purpose long since have vanished. They are maintained, however, at heavy expense, because, possibly, it has never occurred to anyone to order their abandonment.

It appears that a more economical plan would be to erect three or four large army posts at certain strategic points to replace the numerous small forts in which garrisons are kept. It may be that a soldier trained in military ways would be able to advance some excellent arguments against such a program, but to the layman it seems to be founded on common sense.

The construction of four large cantonments on the east and west coasts and in the north and south would centralize administration and facilitate and thereby reduce the cost of furnishing necessary supplies. With modern means of speedy transportation, very little time would be lost in rushing troops from the nearest station to the center of any disturbance within the national borders, and in the event of threatened invasion a troop concentration such as has been briefly outlined might prove highly desirable.

Practical Philosophy

In the Chelsea house where more than one hundred years ago Dr. Clement Moore wrote the immortal poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," an elderly lady sat the other day and defied certain powerful interests to put her out. Outside, steam shovels clattered and shook the foundation and great clouds of dust obscured everything.

In her hand, she held a lease bearing the date of expiration as June 1, 1930. The interests outside, which had ordered the excavating, however, insisted that they were within their rights and could force her to move as soon as the presence of the house actually impeded their progress. They had taken the matter to court and a law suit was pending to secure their rights.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, the occupant, was trying to do what thousands of others have tried to do with no more success than she will have. She may be entirely in the right, but she is fighting interests too powerful for one person. Capital has determined to use the site of her house for a huge apartment building costing millions of dollars and such an enterprise could not be balked by the personal rights of one individual.

Had Mrs. Hart been a practical philosopher, she would have yielded and spared someone the embarrassment of bringing about her public humiliation. Occasionally inconvenience results from the demands of progress and it is wiser folly to object.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10.—Washington is in the throes of the new governmental building program. The steelwork of the vast new department of commerce building has risen high above the ground. The stonework is well advanced on the new structure for the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The two will be among the largest office buildings in the world. Officials are proceeding with the purchase and condemnation of land and buildings on the squares between Pennsylvania avenue and the Mall and soon more foundations will be in process of excavation, more steel and stone rising.

The whole activity and anticipation brings sharply to mind the situation which existed approximately one hundred years ago in Washington when, under the presidency of Andrew Jackson, a building plan for government edifices was under way. Architects and builders had different ideas of how the housing of the government departments should be accomplished then. There was no fine arts commission, no comprehensive MacMillan plan to be followed, no supervising architect's office.

Congress gave public notice that it wanted plans for buildings and the president of the United States had the final say in what should be done. To be sure there was the ground plan of the city which had been laid out by Major Pierre Charles L'Enfant and the capitol and the White House, then known as the president's house, already standing in more or less completed condition. Some other public buildings had been erected but the departments were housed to a considerable extent in rented quarters.

There reposes in the library of congress an old document which reflects the controversies which arose over plans for new buildings. It is a report written by Thomas U. Walter of Philadelphia, an architect, and addressed to Levi Lincoln, then chairman of the committee on public buildings of the house of representatives. It appears that Representative Lincoln's committee had requested Walter, who had a large reputation as an architect, to make a report on the new treasury, then under construction. There had been debates in congress about the building and the committee wanted the word of an expert to assist it in finding out what was wrong.

A perusal of Walter's report indicates that his great difficulty was in finding anything which was not wrong concerning the treasury.

He starts off with a caustic criticism of the site selected. But nobody but the president was blameable for that. It appears that the officials in charge of the project had had great difficulty in getting President Jackson to approve any one of several sites suggested. One morning when the testy general apparently was not in a particularly jolly mood, he was visited by insistent officials, who said the work must get started. Not a little irate he commanded them to follow him, walked out of the White House, crossed a broad lawn and thrusting his walking stick into the ground said: "Put it here." The treasury stands on that site today.

It is further interesting to note that the house committee on public buildings which received this report actually recommended to congress that it follow this advice and raise the structure which by that time was well on its way to completion. Congress, however, did not follow this advice. New blood was brought in, modifications were taken to strengthen the edifice in order to avert the imminent toppling over which Walter had predicted. William P. Elliott was made architect although the venerable Mr. Mills was continued as superintendent.

Today the treasury is regarded as one of the finest government structures in Washington, an edifice of great dignity and tremendous strength. Walter bewailed the fact that the walls were only 2 feet 3 inches thick. He thought they should be 3 feet 6 inches thick, but they are standing in defiance of time. True, a couple of decades ago, new columns of granite were substituted for the sandstone colonnade on the Fifteenth Street side but no stories have toppled over as yet.

Washington doubtless owes much to Walter in many respects, not the least of which was his influence on the choice of building material. The government had been building of frame and sandstone which, as he pointed out, would soon crumble away. In one of his reports he said "I beg leave to suggest that the future public buildings of Washington be constructed of the very best marble or granite that the country can afford."

Steel construction was unknown in those days but his advice was taken and, with the exception of some brick set at corner, Washington departmental buildings are constructed of marble or granite.

My very thoughtful Aunt Etta sent me this dress and bag and necklace from Hollywood, where there are a great many famous designers now. The dress shows the new princess lines, with form fitting effect, and uneven hemline nearly touching the floor. This type is for young women and older ones who are slim enough to wear the princess type. The bag is in moire silver kid, and is stitched in silver, and set with a jeweled ornament made of tiny silver beads with occasional jade beads. The necklace matches the bag.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Picking pockets is almost a lost art in the metropolis. Even among the million at Coney island on the last 4th of July not a leather was lifted. They used to pick up a dip every hour in the subway. A trained squad of detectives rode the tubes for this purpose.

Trained Fagins who taught children to snatch with uncanny swiftness on the lower East Side have vanished in a blockier street, cellar for many years was a Pick-pocket College, where masters trained youthful flunkers to aimless and sent them out on the streets.

Many things contributed to the passing of the dip. The subway was his paradise. In the roaring compactness, jostling was unanxious and the confederate could shut off the victim's view with a newspaper. But the pickpocket squad was so effective the game became too hazardous.

An arrest did not always mean just a ride to headquarters. Subway crowds found a fiendish delight in "kangaroo" a trapped pickpocket. Before he could be taken off the car, he was often hoisted, gouged and given a taste of sabotage. Indeed two narrowly averted lynchings.

Fifty thousand small wage earners in New York are only able to meet expenses by working extra on Sunday. And yet on half the amount they could enjoy peace and comparative plenty in the so-called hick town.

The "city minded" existing in such town-trodden despair are like Bruin in the fable. For ten years the bear paced back and forth in a foot-circus wagon. Released into a large bear pit in a zoo to a large bear pit, it spent the rest of its life turning back and forth in a ten-foot space. Social workers find that once poorly paid city folks cast off shackles for a small town they rarely come back. But the difficulty is inducing them to make the break.

Writes C. B. T.: "It would help when you make historical references about New York to give facts and figures."

The idea is to make you look them up, silly, so you will remember.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

We hear much of the suffering resulting from high blood pressure. We are used to the flushed face and the high color of these patients. They are restricted in their diets and advised to avoid all the things which may be referred to as "blood making foods."

But what of the persons with low blood pressure? They are the ones who need nourishing food, appropriate exercise and proper rest.

Most cases of low blood pressure follow some constitutional disorder. It may be an involvement of the heart of the kidneys, or the low pressure may result from some long continued nervous disorder. These cases the physician has under his constant and watchful care.

Very often there is not sufficient pressure to meet the purpose of the circulation. This results in lack of energy, headache, loss of vitality, mental depression and general debility. These symptoms are met in persons with low blood pressure not caused by any special illness, such as diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever or other infectious diseases.

A stimulant tonic as prescribed by your doctor will do much to benefit you. Outdoor life, deep breathing exercises, and proper diet will combine to effect a cure.

Use regularity in your eating, taking your meals on time. Make it a rule to have nourishing, well-balanced meals. Milk, eggs, well-cooked meats and a variety of fruits and vegetables will do much in restoring you to vigor. Try eating less at a time but more frequently. This is helpful to one of low vitality.

Attention should be given the functioning of the kidneys. Have the urine examined. Make sure the heart is in good condition. Occasional talks with your family doctor will be helpful.

Low blood pressure indicates lowered vitality and the best thing you can do is to make it your business for a while, to build up the body. As it grows stronger the vitality and ambition will increase.

The Softening Influence.

Time was, not so long past, when it was possible to escape from civilization and to sojourn among primitive he-men by taking a trip into the logging regions of the Northwest. There could be found the "hardest" human beings imaginable. Volumes have been written about them and their code. Whenever an author wanted a hard-fisted, hard-fighting hero with hair on his chest he chose a logger.

Imagine the surprise, not to mention the chagrin, of an oldtime lumber-jack, who knew and lived among the birch, bookbinders, bull cooks and loggers of another generation when he returned to the big woods for a vacation, this summer, after several years of retirement and found that the softening influence of modern civilization has invaded even those precincts.

In one "waukan," or camp canyon, he actually found scented soap for sale. Not only that, but there were shaving powders and cosmetics and face lotions. To a man who remembers when the only face lotion that would have any effect on a logger's skin was lathered oil, it was shocking beyond imagination.

Moreover, the gastronomic sensibilities of the visitor were insulted by the serving of head lettuce and shrimp salad, the whole concoction embellished with French dressing. During the meal, served by trim waitresses, the superintendent talked goit. The old logger cut short his visit and returned to the city, his mind confused and full of sorrow.

We doubt that the introduction of these luxuries will help the logging business much. It is a pursuit that demands hard men and luxuries are softening. But the saddest part of it is that, from all appearances, one of the last few remaining haunts of the primitive he-man faces devastation—Columbia Evening Dispatch.

We True Aristocrats Can't See It. One of the greatest contributions of the motor car to modern civilization probably will be improved health resulting from more fresh air per capita.—New Orleans States.

Take It Or Leave It. Night clubs were invented so that the big goose from the country would have a place to lay his golden eggs.

Auto-Suggestion. It might be a good plan to pave our highways with mirrors so that lady motorists will keep their eyes on the road.

47 Years' Practice Taught Dr. Caldwell

Many things about Men and Women

DR. CALDWELL loved people. He studied the habits of his patients and tried to improve their ways of living. His observations over a long period of time convinced him many people were ruining their health by a careless choice of laxatives. Then he determined to write a prescription which would get at the cause of constipation and correct it quickly and safely.

How successful his efforts were is best shown by the fact that the prescription he wrote back in 1885 has become the world's most popular laxative! He prescribed a mixture of herbs and other pure ingredients now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in thousands of cases where bad breath, coated tongue, gas, headaches, biliousness, and lack of appetite, or energy showed him that the bowels of men, women or children were sluggish. It proved successful in the most obstinate cases. So men liked it. Old folks liked it because it never gripes. Children liked its pleasant taste. And everybody is pleased with the gentle way it accomplishes its purpose.

By 1888, the demand for this laxative was so great that the doctor permitted it to be bottled and sold by drugstores. Today you can obtain Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from any drugstore in the world.

Pathe Picture

with HENRY DANIEL

A dramatic diamond in a platinum setting is this remarkable story of pride, jealousy and intrigue — An unusually appealing theme that is bound to interest fathers, wives, husbands and sweet hearts — Don't miss seeing this the finest dialogue film of the current season.

A story that will strike a responsive chord in every family circle — a theme that proves that love if it hopes to endure, must be founded on confidence, forbearance and complete understanding between husband and wife — the greatest all-dialogue picture thus far produced — Don't miss it.

"LUCKY IN LOVE" ON STATE BILL

Many prominent stage players appear in the cast of "Lucky in Love," a Pathe dialogue and singing picture starring Morton Downey which will be presented at the State theater, Friday and Saturday. They include Betty Lawford, Colin Keith-Johnston, Halliwell Hobbes, Louis Sorin, Tyrrell Davis, Mary Murray, Edward McNamara, J. M. Kerrigan, Sonia Karlov, Ollie Mack, Mackenzie Ward, Eddie O'Connor, Richard Taber and others.

The story of "Lucky in Love" tells of the love romance of Michael O'More and Lady Mary Carrigan. The scenes are laid in Ireland and in New York. As Captain Fitzroy, Keith-Johnston is seen as an unscrupulous schemer who becomes Michael's rival. It develops that he has betrayed a bar maid and this militates against him. There are numerous dramatic incidents which make this one of the best dialogue productions of the year.

DOLORES STARS AS PEASANT

Dolores Costello's latest all-talking Vitaphone picture for Warner Brothers, "Hearts in Exile," a spectacular Russian production which is now playing at the American theater, is one of the best of her talking films. She appears in the role of a peasant girl of Moscow—a girl who becomes the center of one of the most surprising love stories ever shown on the screen.

Michael Curtiz directed, and Miss Costello's supporting cast includes

Mrs. Robert McKim Hostess.
Mrs. Robert McKim, Fourth street, entertained friends Tuesday night at the Broadway inn, Wells-ville, with a bridge party. Two tables were in play.

Honors were given Miss Isabelle Runtun and Mrs. Harry Kampman.

Mrs. Harry Kampman will be hostess in two weeks at her home in Tenth street, Wells-ville.

Mrs. Minnie Bennett Hostess.
Mrs. Minnie Bennett received members of the All-American club last night at her home in St. Clair avenue. Fall flowers and Hallowe'en decorations were used throughout the home.

Music, cards and a guessing contest were diversions. Miss Jeanette Dawson presided at the piano. A contest was won by Mesdames Ethel Potts and Louise Hetzel.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Elva Poole, and Mrs. Ola Cox.

Guests were Mesdames Myrtle Pickering, Fred Myers, Fannie Downing, Margaret Cox, Elva Poole, and Miss Joannette Dawson.

In two weeks Mrs. Emma Thompson of Armstrong lane will be hostess.

Bride is Honored.
Mrs. D. H. Schell of West Fourth street entertained last night at her home, honoring Mrs. Robert Garner of Florence street, a recent bride, who will be remembered as Miss Wilma Smith.

MUSICAL COMEDY HIT AT CERAMIC

Radiating pep is on unrestrained frenzy of terpsichore from a score or more dancers, "Good News," the musical comedy supreme, opens at the Ceramic theater tonight.

This popular show, critics say, generates enjoyment with infectious spontaneity. Youth with a capital Y, youth that gives without stint its vivacity, grace and energy, carries it rollickingly along. There is plenty of story for the background to keep "Good News" moving at a fast clip. What puts it over big is the spirit, the zest and the speed with which all the work is done by all concerned.

Laurence Schwab and G. B. De Sylva wrote the book of "Good News," and De Sylva and Lew Brown supplied the lyrics. Ray Henderson wrote the jazz score. The songs have been popularized by the radio and the dance orchestras. These numbers include "Just Imagine," "Lucky in Love," "Happy Days," "The Varsity Drag," "Good News," "The Best Things in Life" and "Girls of the Pi Beta Phi."

The story's locale is Tait college, located in the west. It has to do with the football hero, Tom Marlow, a likeable dillard who "flunked" astronomy two days before Tait's big game with its ancient rival, Colton.

Hostess to F. G. Club.
Members of the F. G. club were entertained last night in the home of Mrs. Norman Hall, West Fourth street. Piano selections were given by Mesdames Wilbur Berry and Norman Shingler. A contest was won by Mesdames Gale Shepherd and Curtis Wallace.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Viva Travis, Warren Riley and Paul Shingler, covers being arranged for 16.

Mesdames Viva Travis, Kenneth Glenn, and Vera Eccleberry, and Miss Hannah Jane Caldwell were guests.

In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Ralph Gatrell, Norton street.

A Love As Lyrical As All Ireland Told In Melody

Their love was shot with song, spiced with Irish humor—sweet and pure as the shamrock. And yet . . . he was a stableboy and she a great Lady. Noble commoner and noble lady! —and beset with the barriers of position, wealth and prejudice. So the scene shifts to America, and then . . . But you'll have to see this lyrical all-song, all-talking drama to appreciate it.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR NEWLYWEDS

A MISCELLANEOUS shower was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Myers, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Myers, West Eighth street, last night. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Myers were recently married. The bride will be remembered as Miss Louella Flint of East End. The honor guests were presented with many gifts.

The home was decorated in a color scheme of black and yellow and Halloween novelties.

A guessing contest was won by Mesdames George Riley, Harrison Mace, and Kelsey Hasselman. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Kelsey Hasselman and Mrs.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

By JOAN.

What if very young sons are SO hard on their clothes? Be glad of it. It's a very healthy sign. If you want to make it difficult for them to wear out their clothes, I'd suggest you outfit them at Ogilvie's. They have a very complete Junior department that's fairly bulking with the best looking overcoats—chinchillas and other sturdy fabrics, every one of them excellently tailored. And such cunning suits in zephyr jersey in every color imaginable and a choice of sweaters that will add sparkle to every boy's eye and interest to his wardrobe.

If you'll only keep your thinking cap on long enough to do some hard thinking upon such an important matter as insurance, you'd see where you've been battling with a number of uncertainties—that you've allowed a few paltry dollars to stand between you and the protection of your family. And while you still have your thinking cap on, you'll call the Lee C. Cooper Agency, ask them what you need to be adequately protected. When you find how reasonable are their rates you'll berate yourself for not having done this very thing years ago.

We visited the Troy Wet Wash Laundry yesterday and saw every process through which the clothes passed. Nowhere did we see any gray clothes, bed and table linen and towels, all of such snowy whiteness. They employ the most sanitary and modern methods and positively no strong solutions or bleaches. No wonder more and more women are sending their clothes to Troy Laundry. They have the assurance that nothing stronger than Rinso will be used as a cleansing agent, that they will be rinsed many times in rain-soft water and that clothes will stay new-looking for a much longer time.

There are so many interesting things about the new assemblage of apparel at Lemmer's that point the way to individuality in dress and add genuine pleasure to shopping there. Their coats this season are simply irresistible. Many of them being replicas of Paris models in the most beautiful fabrics and lavishly trimmed with fashionable furs. (Never were collars, cuffs and borders so ingeniously cut.) From a myriad of dresses one may choose a happy complement for her coat and last but by no means least the hat that will harmonize with both.

You'll certainly sleep much better after you join this Club. It's none other than the Ostermoor Mattress Club. You'll never have to "count sheep" if you have one of these mattresses on your bed. Look in Crook's display window if you will and see the construction of an Ostermoor. Read the guarantees accompanying each mattress, then become a member of the Club and have one of these famous mattresses delivered to your home. As a final note of interest, they will allow you $5.00 on your old mattress towards the purchase of your new one and the balance can be paid on a payment plan of $1.00 a week. A very attractive offer, we think!

Almost any morning now, Sir, you're likely to step out into a crisp, Autumn chill and speedily regret that you have no overcoat. Frankly, we're concerned about you, so we decided to do some scouting around and save you some time. Your best move will be towards Frank Diamond's. We saw a splendid collection of topcoats and overcoats there. You can choose from chevrons, novelty weaves and tweeds from domestic and foreign looms and they are tailored and styled in masterly fashion. Don't worry if you're hard to fit, you'll find your size in either suit or overcoat at Frank Diamond's.

Stop, driver! Isn't it about time your car had a good wash and polishing? There's only one place you'd take it for that. Milton's Grease Palace. They'll wash it as carefully as a mother would her baby. After that they'll give it a nice, even coat of Sinolize, then they will polish it and, oh boy, maybe they don't use a lot of elbow grease to make it shine. Ask them to change your Motor-oil and fill your tank with their knockless gas then your car will not only look like new but it will ride like it did the first month you had it.

Before we sign off we'd like to make one more announcement. Mrs. Harriet Anderson is conducting her classes in Art on Friday evening and Saturday morning of each week at her home on River-view street. The fee per lesson is only 75 cents. If you possess any talent for drawing Mrs. Anderson's course of instruction will not only interest you but it will benefit you greatly.—Adv.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

THREE KILLED IN RAIL WRECK

Pennsy Passenger Train Hits Freight At Portage, Pa.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 10.—(INS)—An engineer, a fireman and an engineer were killed late last night when a Pennsylvania railroad express train crashed with a freight train in a head-on collision at Portage, east of here. The locomotive and two express cars on the passenger train and the locomotive and eight cars on the freight train were derailed.

The dead are: Engineer W. T. Johnson, of Youngwood, Pa.; Fireman J. L. Burkholder, Jeannette, Pa.; and Engineer W. C. Reed, Altoona, Pa.

No passengers on the express train, which left Pittsburgh at 8:05 last night for Harrisburg and Washington, were injured, railroad officials said this morning.

MAN FINED $50 ON GUN CHARGE

Fred Lewis, 403 Franklin, avenue, Wilkensburg, Pa., who was arrested at 1:20 o'clock this morning in Second street, was fined $50 and costs when arraigned before Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Lewis had an automatic revolver, police said.

HOOVER PLANS DETROIT VISIT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(INS)—President Hoover will be the guest of Henry Ford when he makes his visit to Detroit the latter part of this month. It was announced today, Edsel Ford, son of the automobile manufacturer, conferred with Mr. Hoover today over plans for the Detroit reception.

Farm Fire Causes $35,000 Damage.
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10.—(INS)—Damage which was caused by a blaze which destroyed a large barn on the Charles Hinton tenant farm of the Hartman Farm company near here, was today estimated to be $35,000.

Ishbel Misses Series Game.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10.—Ishbel MacDonald, happy in her father's diplomatic achievement, today departed from the capital for Philadelphia with only one regret—that she will arrive one day too early to witness a world series baseball game in Quakertown.

"I wanted very much to see an American baseball game before we left for Canada but I suppose I shall have to wait until my next visit to the United States," she said.

The prime minister's red-checked daughter said that she looked forward to her New York visit and hoped to be able to do some dancing there, one of her favorite diversions overlooked by her Washington hostesses.

Council-at-large

RAY T. ADAM.

J. RAYMOND CHAMBERS.

Ray T. Adam, real estate and insurance broker; Raymond Chambers, grocer; and George A. Hughes, bridge tollkeeper and former potter, are the Republican nominees for council-at-large at the Nov. 5 election.

Adam was born in Smiths Ferry, Pa. March 25, 1888, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Adam. He came to East Liverpool with his parents and, with the exception of five years in Chester, he has lived in East Liverpool all his life.

He was foreman of the shearing department of the Chester plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company for 12 years, leaving there to enter the army in 1917. He served about 20 months with Unit No. 302 of the Motor Transport corps.

Returning to East Liverpool at the close of the war, he entered the real estate business. About seven years ago he formed a partnership with Charles Craig, with offices in the Old Opera House building, Sixth street.

Adam is a member of the Elks, Odd Fellows, American Legion and Methodist Episcopal church. His wife was formerly Miss Bess Brogan. He has one daughter, about 20 months of age. He lives at 514 College street.

Chambers is a native of Jefferson county, having been born at Knoxville, Sept. 9, 1873. His family moved to Empire when he was quite young, where he lived until he was 14 years of age. Then he came to East Liverpool.

Thirty-seven years ago Chambers established a grocery business which he is still engaged, being a member of the firm, Chambers & Wilson, Pennsylvania avenue.

He served two terms in council as representative from the First ward and led the ticket in the contest for council-at-large in the August primary.

Chambers is Republican committee man in Precinct D of the First ward. He was a member of the First Voters' Republican club and recalls riding horseback in a parade held here many years ago.

He is a member of East Liverpool lodge, No. 39, Odd Fellows. He is married and is the father of one son, H. V. Chambers, who is employed by Frank Williams, local radio dealer. He lives at 1235 Pennsylvania avenue.

Hughes, who is now serving his third term as Fourth ward councilman, was born in New York on Aug. 25, 1878, and came to this city in 1885. He followed the trade of a potter for 39 years, being last employed as a jiggerman at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor plant in Chester. He left the shop a little less than a year ago to become tollkeeper on the East Liverpool-Chester bridge.

Hughes was first elected to council in 1921, serving in 1922 and 1923. He retired for two years, then returned to the municipal lawmaking body in 1926 and two years later was re-elected. He was offered the post of president of council by Mayor Benedum, last May, following the death of Charles Hayes, but declined it.

He is a member of Carroll council, No. 509, Knights of Columbus, and the St. Aloysius Catholic church. He is married and is the father of seven children. He lives at 215 West Third street.

Line Forms in Philadelphia.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—(INS)—The line was still forming on the right today as gleeful, carefree fans took their places for the opening sale of the bleacher seats to the Athletics-Cubs world series game here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The line began forming last night, fully 36 hours before game time.

Fortified with an ironing board for a bed, a dozen sandwiches, a jug of water, and a varied assortment of packages, A. R. Tennyson, 28, was the first in line. He took his post at 10 p. m. An hour later two other enthusiastic A's rooters joined him. William Bell, 26, held the second post and Dominick Pate, took third place.

RUM BUYER HIT

Under the state law, the third offense is a penitentiary offense. Some officials are failing to file proper second and third offense charges. Because of these neglects and failures, the state prohibition department is beginning an extensive and thorough inspection and checking of the offices and courts of the state in order that the facts may be known, officials properly instructed, and due publicity given where flagrant failures continue.

"In many instances not enough discretion is used in fixing the amount of the fine. There are no instances where the trafficker, the real bootlegger and dealer, should be let off with $100 or $200. In many cases, even on the first offense, the maximum of $1000 is too little. An offender, who has been in business, yet able to escape by having others take the 'rap' for him, gets off easy if given the maximum. A rum-runner, gets off easy when given the maximum of $1000. He can make that in two trips, if he gets away with them."

"Because of just such things the U. S. congress passed the Jones law, in order that the fellow who has been in business when caught even though it be his first conviction, can be administered proper punishment. Because of the Jones law the state department often turns over to the federal officers the notorious offender. This was done in Ashtabula."

Workhouse Terms Advocated.
"Bootleggers don't like to go to the workhouse; it is much more pleasant in jail at home. Certain counties in Ohio that were worried by the number in the county jail are not worried now since they have a workhouse contract."

"Convicted violators can not be released by the court without paying the fine or serving the sentence. The only other way they can get out is by a pardon from the governor. In a few instances where the prisoners were released, they have been compelled to bring them back. Municipal courts can do something that the county courts can not do, and in a few instances have promiscuously released the prisoner after fixing the amount of the fine and publishing it. The only remedy for this is publicity. Let the public know the facts and nobody will be so perturbed as the judge that releases them."

Senator Sheppard, of Texas, one of the ardent Democratic sponsors of prohibition, offered an amendment in the senate to make the purchaser of liquor equally liable with the seller. His proposal is believed to have little chance of adoption during this session of congress.

"GOOD NEWS" HERE TONIGHT

Cast of 100 in Musical Comedy at Ceramic.

A panic of amusement, thickly sprinkled with beautiful girls of dancing and singing ability, is "Good News," the famous musical comedy that comes to the Ceramic theater tonight. It also has a flock of exceptional comedians, campus shiks and their complements, punctuated with snappy songs and comical situations.

"Good News" is a musical comedy that deals with higher education, boy, boy, and gives a fine excuse for parents to spend money on their offspring, and it brings to us, officially, the popular "Varsity Drag," which has swept across the continent like wildfire. The "Varsity Drag," however, is only one of many unusual features in "Good News," which theatergoers have pronounced the best musical comedy that has been presented in the last 20 years.

A show of this class requires lots of pep and vigor. It is collegiate to the core. Youth predominates.

A strong cast of entertainers, approximating 100, will be seen in "Good News."

the compelling of others to obey the laws of the nation. Government lies in the securing of obedience to laws, rather than in the making of laws. A nation can pile its laws as high as the capital, but without obedience there is no government.

"The prohibition laws, like all other laws, should be enforced. Methods that are proper in the enforcement of other laws are equally proper in the enforcement of prohibition laws. Detectives have been used by the United States government, and are now being used, in the enforcement of laws dealing with smugglers, counterfeiters, conspirators, narcotic traffickers, etc. Ohio has been using detectives through its history to apprehend violators of nearly all laws. This is done, the courts have said, because it is the only way to catch violators."

To Check Traffic.
"Are those who find fault with the manner of the enforcement of the prohibition laws really sincere? Would they have displayed such feelings if the violator had been a counterfeiter? Of course not. It is only because of their hatred of prohibition that they hypocritically pose as noble citizens of their own chiefs."

"Less leniency should be shown repeated violators. The imposing of fines on liquor law offenders must not be commercialized. The times must be for the purpose of prohibiting the trafficking in intoxicating liquors, and not for the purpose of securing revenue. Fines are for the purpose of putting the bootlegger out of business, and, if properly imposed, will do so. Fines are not to be collected as a tax or an assessment by fixing a small amount and arresting violators frequently, under a city ordinance. If that were the object we would still have the old tax system and have them pay, as formerly, $1,000 a year. Some have apparently worked on that theory, but to 'break even' with that idea, the violator would have to be arrested ten times a year if given the minimum of $100. These repeated small fines have hampered prohibition rather than helped it."

Hits Small Fines.
"Under the state law, the third offense is a penitentiary offense. Some officials are failing to file proper second and third offense charges. Because of these neglects and failures, the state prohibition department is beginning an extensive and thorough inspection and checking of the offices and courts of the state in order that the facts may be known, officials properly instructed, and due publicity given where flagrant failures continue."

ON OCTOBER 21st, the world celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of Edison's electric light invention. Emil Ludwig makes the interesting suggestion that, on the night of the anniversary, electric lights be turned out all over the world for one minute, to emphasize the value of Edison's work.

He calls Edison "a second Prometheus." Edison stole light from the lightning as Prometheus stole fire from heaven.

NEWELL PLANT STRIKE DENIED

Officials of the Metcalf Refractories company, Third street, Newell, today denied the existence of a strike which former employees of the company said was called a few days ago.

"The plant is closed for the lack of orders," was the explanation. "There has been no labor dispute. Other than that we have nothing to say."

Spokesman for the employees said that 45 pressers, kiln placers, packers and finishers walked out when the company offered a wage reduction and declined to sign a proposed agreement with Local Union No. 1529, American Federation of Labor. The agreement, it is said, provided wage increases for a number of the workers.

Eight West Virginia state police, headed by Sergeant A. M. Long, all of Wheeling, arrived in Newell last night.

Representatives of the 45 who said they had walked out, were picketing the plant today, it was declared.

UNCLE POM

By Henry C. Rowland

A sparkling, swift-moving mystery romance

SYNOPSIS.

Pomeroy Penfold, a wealthy American widower, nearing 50, loves to travel and visit friends. When the story opens he is a guest at the chateau of his sister, Alicia, and her husband, the Comte de Rennes. He is disturbed by the sight of an intruder—a man in yachting costume—who appears on the estate, and stares rudely at Maia, the count's lovely 20 year old daughter by a first marriage. Maia admits having met the man in America, and says his name is Capt. Seagrave.

Kirby Colton, handsome scapegrace son of an American bishop, an old friend of the Penfold family, calls at the chateau unexpectedly and is invited to spend the night. He, too, has met Maia in America.

The count surprises Uncle Pom by telling him Maia loves him, and indicating the marriage would please him. Maia overhears them and confirms her father's remarks. Later she confesses that both Kirby and Seagrave are erstwhile suitors. Knowing the two hate each other, Uncle Pom goes in search of Kirby to avoid a clash. He is attacked from behind, knocked unconscious, and robbed of a belt containing priceless diamonds. That night a prowler in his room tries to choke him, then escapes. Maia suspects Seagrave of both attacks—he is always in financial difficulties—but Kirby astounds her by offering an alibi for his rival. And he confides in Uncle Pom that he has not come to see Maia, but to borrow $1,000 to save an innocent girl from trouble. Penfold gives him the money.

Seagrave calls, and is unabashed when Penfold tells him he is under grave suspicion for assault and battery. He denies the charges, announces that he intends to marry Maia, and infuriates Penfold by hinting he knows something to the girl's discredit, which he will use as blackmail. Pressed for details, he declares she is involved in a case of murder, and says Colton can confirm the story, as he was a witness. Colton explains that Maia did shoot a man in America by accident, but through Seagrave's fault. He challenges the latter to a duel, but later agrees with Penfold that this would only bring scandal to Maia's name and the best thing for Kirby to do is to clear out at once.

First, however, Kirby makes a deposition, swearing he fired the shot, in order to forestall more blackmail threats, and surprises Penfold by confessing that he has just put through a coup with European financiers that will make him rich. He pays off the libel on Seagrave's yacht, hoping to get rid of him, because he feels Maia has more cause to fear him since she asked Kirby to clear his rival's name with the alibi.

That night Uncle Pom is disturbed by a noise downstairs and, investigating, finds that the count's swords have disappeared. He suspects a duel and begins to search the grounds. He hears Maia and Kirby talking in the moonlight and discovers they are in love. He releases Maia from the engagement and then tries to persuade Kirby not to go on with the duel but in vain. Seagrave proves to be the more skillful fencer. He injured Colton, though not seriously.

Mr. Penfold is still puzzled about the theft of his diamonds, when Maia confides to him she who took them, when she found him lying on the bench unconscious. She did it, hoping to use a charge of theft to dispose of Seagrave. But she declares she did not take the money.

Kirby admits to Uncle Pom that he loves Maia but fears he has no chance with her.

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.

UNCLE POM HAS AN INSPIRATION.

"Well, then, my boy, don't lose heart," said Mr. Penfold. "Something tells me that you've still got a show. You didn't lose out entirely last night. Perhaps not as much as if you'd managed to run that scamp through. Your play was the sort to appeal tremendously to a girl of Maia's traditions."

Kirby asked diffidently. "How did you really feel about it your self, sir?"

"Like a proud old uncle," Mr. Penfold said, and added warmly, "of you both, it's worth a lot to a man like me who fancies himself a bit as a philosopher to see his philosophy work out."

Kirby's eyes glowed. "It's worth even more to a black sheep like me to know that there are men in the world like you, Uncle Pom—and if I say much more in my weakened condition, I'll start to blub. I turned a close corner from giving such an unmanly exhibition when you showed that check back across the table at me."

"Nothing to blub about," Mr. Penfold said gruffly. "At this moment your strategic position is strong. Make the most of it."

Kirby shook his head. "Even if my play was good, it wouldn't get me anywhere. There's the comte. Maia adores her father and thinks that the man she marries has got to be just like him."

"You are," said Mr. Penfold. "So much like him, in fact, as to lose a little in my admiration. That forced melodramatic but dangerous sword fight was precisely the sort of silly thing that Bertrand would have pulled off if he had been in your position. And Maia appreciated that as much as I did. That was probably the reason she did not try to interfere."

"All the same," Kirby said, "he wouldn't let me marry her. Too much on the wrong side of my dossier. And Maia would never marry any man against her father's wish."

"I'm not so sure that it would be. He likes you personally, while disapproving you theoretically. He admires the debonaire type when it is combined with square shoulders and diplomatic ability—if those two things ever combine."

GALLEY TWO-POM owled. He went out then, true to his unfailing intuition that told him all ways when enough has been said. Tact in Mr. Penfold mounted at moments. Yet it is doubtful if he would have made an able diplomat, because he was afflicted with that inhibited fatal to such which is the faculty of saying no.

There was another reason for his wishing to be alone. A big idea was germinating in his mind. Some inspirations are flashed instantly by radio, as it were, from the subjective to the objective consciousness, while others must pass through the process of growth. But even on his way through the house, Mr. Penfold's nascent thought broke ground. So that instead of mounting to his room, he went out into the garage, where he found Pierre polishing the bright work on his car.

"Take me to Lorient," said Mr. Penfold, "and don't loiter."

"Bien, monsieur," Pierre quickly stowed his polishing gear, slipped on his tunic, cap and gauntlets, and they rolled out.

Mr. Penfold was now in a ferment lest he should be too late—come in sight of the harbor in time to see Seagrave's yacht moving out. He sighted with relief her tall spars and solid hull. A boatman set him alongside just as the quartermaster was in the act of hoisting the accommodation ladder.

He asked for Capt. Seagrave, giving his own name. The quartermaster caught a turn of the ladder tackle, disappeared, then returned immediately and slacked down the ladder and asked him to come aboard. He showed him to the companionway and Mr. Penfold went below to find Seagrave in a comfortable after-cabin, evidently the owner's quarters.

"Good morning, sir," said Seagrave. "How's colton?"

"Doing nicely, thanks. You seem to be about to sail."

Seagrave nodded. "Nothing to hinder, is there?" He offered a chair.

Mr. Penfold took it, and said, "Yes—quite a lot, Seagrave. Personally, I'd be glad to waive my part of it and see the last of you."

Seagrave hung up his muscular thigh on the corner of his desk. "What's up now?"

"The guff," said Mr. Penfold, "is blown. You are apt to be wanted at any moment by M. Vannier on a charge of assault on my person and the robbery of jewels to the value of about one hundred thousand dollars."

"I thought that silly theory had been set aside."

"Why do you think that?" Mr. Penfold asked.

"When Colton kindly came over and lifted the libel on this packet, he told me that I was free to clear when I liked, as he had also furnished me with an alibi to any charge of having assaulted and robbed you."

"The duce he did," Mr. Penfold said. "Did he tell you how?"

"O, yes. Said he'd caught sight of me far down the shore at the moment you must have been laid out."

"Colton," Mr. Penfold observed, "is one hundred per cent Virginia gentleman and one hundred and per per cent damned fool."

"That being the case," Seagrave said, "I've taken my time about shoving off."

"And now," Mr. Penfold retorted, "you are apt to be indefinitely delayed in shoving off."

"Then you've persuaded Colton that a gentleman is in honor bound to lie to save a lady?"

"No. You couldn't make him see that, if he happened to be the next logical choice for the guilty party," Mr. Penfold said. "But he could be shown where he was wrong. Perhaps you'd like to hear my reconstruction of the case."

"That might be amusing," Seagrave said. "Please make it snappy, though, if you don't mind—I'm all set to sail. I'd like to catch the tide."

"You are all set to sail for Dev. It's island, Seagrave, and the tide has already turned against you. Here are the workings of it. You knew the location of the chateau, and on the day before yesterday you took your dinghy and landed at the old cove, where you left the boat in charge of your engineer, Jack; then walked along the shore to the beach. You withdrew immediately, intercepted Maia, and used your talk with her. No use to detail that, is there?"

"No use to detail any of it that I can see," Seagrave said curtly. "All the same, go on."

"You hung about a bit when she had gone, then walked back to the shore, where you met Kirby Colton. We both know what was said, so that can be likewise omitted. You parted, Kirby walking back to the little beach. You started to return to your boat, then changed your mind, and dropped down in the gorse at the edge of the rocks to think things over."

"Now you're gettin' off," Seagrave said.

"No I'm not. Presently Kirby happened to look back down the shore. The sun was very bright and at the right angle, and Colton saw a man whom he naturally look to be yourself."

"Now, who could that have been?" Seagrave's tone was mocking, but there was a sudden tightening of his hard face.

ITCHING ENDS WHEN ZEMO TOUCHES SKIN

—thousands say. It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings relief to skin which itches and burns. Even in most severe cases, itching disappears almost as soon as Zemo touches the tender and inflamed surface. To draw out local infection and help to clear away unsightly blemishes, we know of nothing better than invisible Zemo. Always keep this family antiseptic on hand. Use it freely. It's safe as can be. 35c, 60c and $1.00. All dealers.

Childbirth

a happy event

"Mother's Friend relieved me of the strain and the pain that came from the stretching of the skin and tissues," writes a young mother. "I did not suffer as I have heard other women say they did. My doctor recommended it to me."

Countless thousands of expectant mothers have had the same experience with "Mother's Friend." It is a scientifically prepared skin lubricant and pain-reducer. "Mother's Friend" originated in the prescription of an eminent obstetrician, and has been in use for over 60 years.

You owe yourself the comfort "Mother's Friend" gives. It is so soothing and relaxing! It is used externally only—gently rubbed into the skin. Brings relief promptly. Very valuable in keeping the breasts in good condition. Also puts you in fine shape for the approaching ordeal.

"Mother's Friend" is on sale at all drug stores. $1.25 per bottle. Try a massage with it tonight and note the ease and comfort it gives. A booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" will be mailed to you on request. Address: Bradford Regulator Co., Dept. 14, Atlanta, Ga.

DO you not marvel when thinking of the inward physical workings of your child—bone, flesh, muscle and brain growing each day—building onward toward manhood or womanhood?

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition.

If you are a victim of Stomach Trouble—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice. Don't take strong medicine, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like if they keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bismarck Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive, and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarck Magnesia tablets, which are a good digestant can supply at trifling cost should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bismarck Magnesia Tablets.—Adv.

Rich, red blood builds and sustains

Of course it is the blood stream which carries the millions of tiny red-cells to all parts of the body. And it is the healthy, rich, red-blood-cells that does this building, warding off disease and making for strong and healthy bodies.

When a child's appetite wanes or he loses weight, the complexion becomes sallow or pimples and boils appear—then you instantly know that the inward mechanism is not working properly—that a good blood tonic is required.

S.S.S. builds sturdy health

In such cases S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It is made from fresh vegetable drugs—therefore will not harm the most delicate system. It improves the appetite and restores the red-blood-cells to normal; lost weight is regained; skin eruptions clear up and color returns to the cheeks.

Give your child the right chance to develop. You will not regret it in later years.

For more than 100 years, S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

New Trial Ordered In Carbisello Case

Jury Disagrees After Six and One-half Hours' Deliberation; Vote Reported 10 To 2 for Conviction.

WELLSVILLE, O., Oct. 10.—Joe Carbisello, Wellsville, charged with manufacturing distilled liquor will get a new trial in common pleas court, Lisbon, as a result of the disagreement of a jury last night following six and one-half hours of deliberation.

He is scheduled for his second trial appearance before Judge W. F. Lones during the week of October 21.

Trial of Guilesepe Volino, charged jointly with Carbisello, will follow. The Carbisello jury is reported to have voted 10 to 2 for conviction, resulting in the disagreement. Carbisello and Volino were arrested several weeks ago in a raid by Sheriff W. J. Barlow and his deputies on the Volino farm near Highlandtown off the Wellsville-Salineville road.

A large still confiscated by the authorities at the time, was set up in the court room as an exhibit, along with accessory equipment.

Homeworth

Annual homeworth of the Church of the Brethren at Reading, was held Sunday and was attended by a large number of former residents of the vicinity. Seventy-five years ago the present building was erected by members of the congregation and services have been held regularly. A brief history of the congregation was given by Elder T. S. Mockerman of Ashland. His topic was "A City Built on a Hill Cannot Be Hidden." The homeworth program began with Sunday school at 9:30. There was a church service and at noon a basket dinner was served in the basement. Elder J. C. Imman of Canton was in charge of the afternoon service. Devotionals were in charge of Elder Oliver Royer, pastor of the church of the Brethren at Columbus, gave an address on "Home Training." Impromptu talks were given by A. W. Harold, of Columbiana, Samuel J. Fultz, a former school teacher, now residing in Cleveland, Mrs. Ella Hahlen McConahay of Carrollton, Jesse Teegarden of Cleveland, Samuel Stoffer of Freeburg, Thomas Stump of Canton, J. B. Hoffman of Alliance, Samuel Heestand and W. W. Stroup of Homeworth, and Attorney Kenneth B. Cope of Canton and R. Paul Miller, new pastor of the Reading church. Rev. Miller is a native of Pottstown, Pa. The program was interspersed with special music by members of the congregation and a quartet from the Alliance Church of the Brethren composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Garman and Mr. and Mrs. William Antram. Elder T. S. Mockerman closed the services. The homeworth was arranged by a committee composed of O. C. Hahn of Alliance, W. W. Stroup and Miss Mable Sanor of Homeworth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Carroll of Cleveland, were in Homeworth on business Monday.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Needless Pain!

Some folks take pain for granted.
They let a cold "run its course."
They wait for their headaches to "wear off."
If suffering from neuralgia or from neuritis, they rely on feeling better in the morning.
Meantime, they suffer unnecessary pain. Unnecessary, because there is an antidote. Bayer Aspirin always offers immediate relief from various aches and pains we once had to endure. If pain persists, consult your doctor as to its cause.
Save yourself a lot of pain and discomfort through the many uses of Bayer Aspirin. Protect yourself by buying the genuine. Bayer is safe. Always the same. All drugstores.

"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" (failure to digest starches), causes more than one-half the cases of stomach trouble. Because of this deficiency, potatoes, bread, macaroni, rice, breakfast cereals and other starchy foods remain in a semi-solid condition and refuse to move on as they should. This stoppage causes INDIGESTION, GAS, FERME-NTATION, SOURNESS, SICK HEAD-
ACHE and other common troubles.
"TOO MUCH ACID" is the cause of almost all the remaining half of our stomach troubles. It also is the result of fermentation and excess digestive acids. ACIDINE, the new discovery, is a perfect anti-acid combined with "Japtase," the most effective known starch digestant, one pound of which will digest more than 500 pounds of starchy foods.

CUBS CONFIDENT THEY'LL SHAKE OFF SLUMP

Grimm Expects Hitters To Open Up In Philly

Despite the Fact They Are Two Down to Connie Mack's A's, Bruins Retain Fighting Spirit.

By HARRY NEILY.

EN ROUTE TO PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—No chorles of glee accompany this leg to the sunny side of the Alleghenies today. The Cubs are on the shady side of the world series returns and if they lose two more ball games there isn't going to be any more world series.

Toronto Gridders In Shape

Stars Back in Lineup For Saturday's Game Here.

TORONTO, O., Oct. 10.—With Gilbert Jones, Miller and Keenan back in the lineup and Yasho fully recuperated, matters begin to take an optimistic aspect as the impending conflict with the Pottery of East Liverpool draws near. Preparations are going ahead full blast at the Pottery City to make the game with the locals a feature of their 1929 football season.

Although the three stars did not take part in Saturday's tilt with New Cumberland, the Heroldmen displayed form and versatility and there was a marked improvement over the week previous. And now with these three hard driving stars back on the gridiron this week to wage battle for the Red and White, it is presumably safe to believe that the Blue and White machine is going to have its hands full.

Yesterday Herold did not let a bit in the practice and the offensive seemed to be functioning to perfection. The high mentor has also been brushing up on the aerial attack, and if the Red and White combine cannot penetrate the Pottery front line, they can give them something to worry about with an aerial bombardment.

Many fans still have in mind the aerial battle of last season when the local team started right at the beginning a drive that swept the foe off their feet in the first period. But the Pottery rallied, their line stiffened and Toronto was forced to take another set back from the same foe in two years. A passing attack was the undoing of the Heroldmen for it paved the way for two touchdowns last year.

Bradford, judging from his brilliant work last Saturday, will possibly get a crack at the East Liverpool eleven. And combined with the evasive Karaffa, the hard hitting Davis at fullback and the clever George Jones at quarter, Toronto should make matters hot for the Pottery aggregation.

Judging from the work of Miller, Yasho, Roberts, Sweda and Goddard on the line, and with Gordon and Walker showing great promise, it will be no picnic for the Zookmen.

Toronto still feels the sting of the last two battles, and this will be an incentive for them to fight so much the harder.

The Toronto High school Red

However, the Cubs are not particularly fearful of the ultimate results. They have been in tough situations before and usually succeeded in extricating themselves.

"We have been in a slump before," Captain Charlie Grimm said last night. "We are going into Philadelphia hitting with one foot free, and this ball team can hit. I know we haven't for a couple of days, but we will get going."

The Cubs may be down, but they are not out. They still have their spirits and their ambitions. They do not admit that the A's are their superiors and it is this mental attitude that made them so successful in the National league campaign. They do not know the meaning of the word "quit."

By JIMMY CORCORAN.

EN ROUTE TO PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—At the present time we happen to be sitting across from Charlie Grimm who in our opinion should be quite a past master of the baseball.

Is Charlie downhearted? Not by a darned sight. That is the spirit of the Cubs as they ride into the lair of the enemy. Surely they were plastered on the beeper.

But Charlie isn't bothered about that. "We've run up against some mighty good pitching," Grimm declared as he stretches over a chair in the club car. "But this club is too good to be held down much longer."

Charlie told us about the eight uncles he had to look up after the series. They were his guests. The eight uncles departed Chicago last night but they are coming back again.

"They are coming back for the sixth game of the series next Wednesday," Charlie said.

Charlie knows that there's going to be a sixth game. So do the uncles.

Woody English retired the first night out shortly before 9 o'clock. Woody has played good ball so far despite his few bobbles. He wants to get a lot of sleep so he can be in there hustling the Mack pitcher regardless of who it may be. So far Woody has done his share of the hitting.

and White band has been put through some intensive drill practices, brushing up on their marching and music in preparation for the annual classic and there will be a musicians' battle waged Saturday as the East Liverpool school has a peppy squad of melody makers who will be on hand. This should make a real attraction at the game.

Big Six Is Facing Crucial Season; New Talent Is Tried

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 2.—With the cream of the eastern crop of football aggregations providing a well-timed dessert as part of an extensive schedule, the Big Six football squads are on the threshold of what seems to be a crucial but thrilling season. Only the severest critics can profess an unwilling determination to forecast success for an organization which only last year wrested from the athletic net which surrounded Missouri Valley contests.

Assuming the title of the Big Six, and consisting in the universities of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Iowa State and the Kansas State Agricultural College, this apparently young group of aspiring schools have already put their names deeply in the honor roll of Sportdom.

With a great number of stars lost through graduation, the Big Six schools are returning to the gridiron with new talent, and even more, new coaches.

McMillan in Charge.

"Bo" McMillan of Centre College fame is taking charge of the Kansas Aggie recruits and predicts a successful season, although a shadow of doubt seems to permeate through Wildcat environs.

Buckeyes Picked To Lose

O. S. U. Pessimistic on Eve of Iowa Tilt.

OHIO sport fans have a heavy football diet on tap during the coming weekend.

Heading the list of games in the Buckeye state is the Ohio State-Iowa classic (7) and any one who has been reading the "Bugle" will know that the "Scarlet and Gray" warriors will experience a defeat at the hands of the Hawkeyes. Iowa piled up a 46 to 0 score against Monmouth last Saturday while the Bucks had a hard job to glimpse a 19 to 0 win from Wittenberg.

Sharing the gridiron spotlight will be the Carnegie Tech-Western Reserve game at Cleveland. Again it will be the fate of an Ohio team to sip the waters of defeat.

The Buckeye Athletic association presents a good program. Ohio university will be host to Ohio Wesleyan in its new stadium at Athens and though most sports writers have been reluctant to pick the winner, this scribe leans toward the Fighting Bishop's side. Meanwhile, Denison will be matching brain and brawn against Wittenberg at Springfield. X, the unknown, marks the result. Denison took a 20 to 0 victory from Muskingum as a last Saturday starter and perhaps that has whetted its appetite for more blood. Wittenberg has a very good team, however, so it might win.

The first leather dishes will be served on Friday afternoon. Marietta plays Otterbein at the Ohio river city. The scuffle will be worth watching, to say the least. The Northwestern Ohio conference also has a game scheduled for the same afternoon. Findlay and Toledo meet on the field of honor and Findlay should take those honors.

This year's Ohio conference, which was threatened with a split two years ago (that's a skeleton from the family closet) because of its unwieldy size, also will see busy times. Baldwin-Wallace takes on Capital at Berea; Hiram plays Case at Hiram; Oberlin meets Mt. Union on the former's home field, and Akron will "cross swords" with Wooster at Akron. Otterbein and not to be quoted at a later date, the winners of the respective frays will be Baldwin-Wallace, Case, and—two question marks, which means that this correspondent hasn't the low-down on the Akron-Wooster and Mt. Union-Oberlin tilts and it is bad policy to be always guessing.

The remainder are non-conference games. Ashland plays host to Slippery Rock and the latter eleven is no setup. Cincinnati has a setup in Kenyon, though. Defiance goes to Fort Wayne to meet Concordia. The Dayton Flyers should romp through Wilmington at a night game in the Gem City and Heidelberg should hand an old-fashioned licking to Kent at Tiffin. John Carroll has a tough opponent in Grove City at Cleveland and so has Miami university in Kentucky Wesleyan though some say different. Miami should win but not by too staggering a score. Ohio Northern's polar bears will attempt to rough Cedarville's aggregation and St. Xavier is picked to take a win from West Virginia Wesleyan.

The schedule for the weekend follows:
Findlay vs. Toledo at Findlay. (Friday).
Marietta vs. Otterbein at Marietta. (Friday).
Ashland vs. Slippery Rock at Ashland.
Baldwin-Wallace vs. Capital at Berea.
Cincinnati vs. Kenyon at Cincinnati.
Dayton vs. Wilmington at Dayton.

Edwards Is "Underdog" Pros Face Smilers Sunday

Welterweights Battle in Six-round Semi-final To Gizzy-Smallwood Bout at Wellsville Tonight.

DESPITE the fact that Matchmaker Ray Foutts has paired off two good fighters, Battling Gizzy and Chet Smallwood, in his eight-round main event, and has prefaced the headline battles with a pair of classy prelims, the interest of fans refuses to stray any great distance from the six-round semi-final in which Freddy Edwards, Chester welterweight, tests his mettle and his punch against the veteran Harry Devore of Huntington, W. Va., tonight at Wellsville.

They seem to feel that Edwards has reached more or less of a crisis in his career to date.

The Chester lad has walloped his way to win after win around 20 of them—but even the best of them stab their toes now and then on some unexpected obstacle.

While a Devore victory over Edwards wouldn't be unexpected, on the other hand, a win for Edwards would put a big feather in his bonnet and, possibly, would surprise quite a lot of the ring habitués hereabouts.

The fact is, they say, some of the more rabid addicts are willing to say it with sobs that Edwards will lose tonight.

In the meantime, the West Virginian — Edwards, that is—for they're both from the same state, continues his training routine with few other thoughts in his mind except that this is another fight. Devore fought Mickey Solomon in Sebring a little better than a month ago. It was a main bout at Palermo bowl and Solomon edged out a decision.

He has fought Paul Delaney, Mickey Feder, Joe O'Malley, Willie Petroni, Nig Blair, Tony Burns, Shifty Dando, Danny Huff, Eddie Moore and a number of others, not so well known, perhaps.

The fact that he has won quite a number of his battles by knock-outs testifies to his ability to Carney Grid Combine Faces Hard Game.

THEY'RE coming bigger and better, says Coach Carney of the East Liverpool Pros today as he whips his Ceramic City gridders into condition for their battle with the Pleasant Valley Smilers of Pittsburgh Sunday afternoon at Sherwood Field.

And by that he means nothing else except that he's booked one big job for the local pigskin chasers who've already covered themselves with glory and bumps in the two games they have captured to date.

They trimmed the Marshall Tech eleven of Pittsburgh, a pretty good football team, in the first game, and then topped the Home-wood combine in the second.

Marshall didn't score on the locals. Home-wood did, but not enough.

What Pleasant Valley will do is something that Carney hesitates to predict.

He knows his team has the biggest battle of the season to date on its hands. He'd like to see them win them all, of course, but he adopted a policy before the campaign started in which he figured to bring in the best possible, even if his proteges took a trouncing now and then.

They've shown they can compete successfully with the rank and file of Pittsburgh district teams and, thereby, Carney is encouraged to bring in something considerable tougher.

The boys will be back on the hilltop again Sunday afternoon, out at Sherwood along the Lincoln highway. But they are bringing in a first class attraction and would like to see a large turnout of fans.

The Smilers are classified as one of the best teams in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph elimination series. They have beaten quite a few of the topnotch clubs of the Pittsburgh district in the last few years.

Carney has boasted the strength of the local club for the tilt with the visitors Sunday.

He announced today he would have Phillips of the Burns club at one of the wing positions, opposite Goose Mundy, formerly of the Toronto Tigers.

The game is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. and should prove a real treat to fans who go for the pro brand of the sport.

Lipton's Cup Hopes Bright

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 4.—Sir Thomas Lipton, famous Irish yachtsman, is conceded by prominent men in American yachting circles, as having the best chance of winning the America's Cup in September, 1930, than at any time during his colorful thirty years racing career.

Lipton, whose Irish wit is only exceeded by his shrewdness and clever racing ability, has already challenged United States yachtsmen four times and lost each time, but he has chosen to hurl his fifth challenge at a time when Uncle Sam's cup defenders are literally "caught with their hands tied."

Delays Challenge.

He delayed his last challenge until a time he was absolutely sure that two of America's greatest yacht designers had definitely retired.

Japan expects a bumper rice crop this year.

Its quality is unexcelled because—

- 1—"Canada Dry" is made from high-quality Jamaica ginger and through our exclusive extraction process retains all the flavor and aroma of the ginger root.
- 2—"Canada Dry" is made from absolutely pure ingredients, blended and balanced in exact proportions. A secret process of carbonation enables it to retain its sparkle long after the bottle is opened.
- 3—"Canada Dry" is tested daily under laboratory methods to assure its purity. Leading hospitals and physicians prescribe it. Here is a better, purer ginger ale.

THE result is a distinctive ginger ale . . . "dry" like some rare old wine . . . refreshing as a breeze from the ocean . . . sparkling and delicious. It is served the wide world over. Its marvelous flavor has won the approving nod of connoisseurs.

Serve it with dinner tonight. Offer a glass to friends when they come in to call. It is a delightful beverage to drink with meals. Its gaiety adds zest to any party.

'Listen In' Tonight

As she sings the theme song of her first talking picture, "The Temptress," the voice of Gloria Swanson, film actress, will be heard over the air from WCAE at 10:30 o'clock. She will be the guest artist of the Victory hour.

A more prosaic, but nevertheless interesting program in the eyes of Ohio Valley folks will come from KDKA at 5:55 when the first of a series of talks on the Ohio river celebration will be broadcast.
Virginia Kendrick, contralto, will sing at 7 p. m. and Rex Beach, novelist, will be the speaker during the Lehn and Fink seneader at 8
p. m.

Advance program of the Ohio river celebration will be broadcast through WJAS. Dramatized detective story will be presented at 9 o'clock.

CLIMAXING the other important announcements of the past 12 months including sweeping price reduction, new models, Porcelain-on-steel inside and out, the famous "Cold Control", the quiet compressor and with sales greater than at any time in the history of the Company, Frigidaire Corporation announces . . . a

Special small cash payment puts any Frigidaire in your home . . . balance to suit your convenience

The Frigidaire "Cold Control" enables you to control the temperature in the freezing compartment, speed the freezing of ice cubes and make a great variety of delicious desserts.

End the risks of uncertain refrigeration. End the dangers of tainted food. A special small cash payment puts Frigidaire in your home—now. And Frigidaire brings you a combination of essential features found on no other refrigerator in the world.

The Frigidaire "Cold Control" for example, is one of the greatest developments in electric refrigeration. It is offered only by Frigidaire.

Furthermore, the Frigidaire mechanism is built into the bottom of the cabinet. It is accessible. Inspections or adjustments can be made easily and quickly with no interruption in service. All of the food shelves are in the upper part of the cabinet. Stopping is eliminated. The top of the cabinet can be used for shelf space.

Winter as in Summer you need Frigidaire. And now, today, you can buy this truly modern refrigerator—with all the features that only Frigidaire can offer on remarkably liberal terms.

Come in and let us tell you about our deferred payment plan—a plan that makes Frigidaire easier to buy than ever before. Call at our display room or phone for our representative, today.

West Virginia Joins In Ohio River Fete

Governor Conley Will Head Delegation in Celebration of Lock System Celebration.

CHESTER, W. Va., Oct. 10.—Governor William G. Conley, United States Senators Guy D. Goff and Dr. Henry D. Hatfield and Congressman Carl G. Bachmann of Wheeling will head the West Virginia delegation that will participate in the celebration marking the completion of the Ohio river lock and dam system from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., which will be held at Cincinnati from October 12 to 18.

Hancock county will be represented by State Senator W. Edwin Wells, Jr., of Newell; E. T. Weir, president of the Weirton Steel company and Attorney R. M. Brown of New Cumberland.

President Herbert Hoover will take part in the ceremonies.

L. G. KINCHOLLOE HEADS MASONS

Lawrence G. Kinchloe, of Clarksburg, was elected grand high priest of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of West Virginia, at the closing of the annual convocation yesterday at Clarksburg.

Other officers are: Carney M. Layne, Huntington, grand king; John W. Mason, Fairmont, grand scribe; Samuel N. Myers, Martinsburg, grand treasurer; George M. Ford, Wheeling, grand secretary; Paris P. Lester, Wayne, grand lecturer; the Rt. Rev. William L. Gravatt, Charleston, grand chaplain; John M. Cook, Athens, grand captain of the host.

Robert S. Lemon, Parkersburg, grand principal sojourner; Walter O. Cooper, Martinsburg, grand royal arch captain; Harry A. Berry, Bluefield, grand master of the third veil; Ira S. Nichols, Thermid, grand master of the second veil; Fred C. Steinbicker, Wheeling, grand master of the fourth veil; Leonard O. Dotson, Clarksburg, grand marshal, and Edwin K. Stout, Clarksburg, Tyler.

MISS HISSAM CLUB HOSTESS

Miss Twyla Hissam was hostess to members of the H. and H. club Tuesday night in her home in Carolina avenue. Sewing and games were diversions. Trophies were awarded the Misses Harriett and May Emberton and Helen Lindsey. Refreshments was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Ameda Haney.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Gertrude McKinney, Lutton avenue, with Mrs. Mary Brant as associate hostess.

Trade Board Meets Tonight. Members of the Board of Trade will meet tonight in the council chamber of city hall when plans will be made for the annual Halloween celebration.

Why Careful Mothers Prefer It. Frightening croupy coughs, stuffy wheezy colds, and troublesome night coughs are quickly and safely eased and helped by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mothers endorse it, is sedative without opiates and mildly laxative. Contains no chloroform, nor any ingredient that a careful mother would hesitate to give her child. Mrs. N. W. Calvary, Wis., says: "My mother says there is no better cough medicine for children than Foley's Honey and Tar, and we too find it so." Ask for it—Adv.

Dinner For Drive Workers. Workers engaged in the religious visitation campaign will meet for dinner tonight at 6 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church. The final meeting will be held tomorrow night in the Presbyterian church.

Visiting In Indianapolis. G. W. Arner of Carolina avenue, is a business visitor in Indianapolis, Ind.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.
